Inspiration from entrepreneurs around the world

Learn the success secrets these authors have used to generate six figure incomes through their businesses.

QUEENSLAND, Australia – August 1, 2008 – Join visionaries, authors and world class leaders in the personal empowerment and success fields as they share their inspiring stories and their business secrets as well as personal stories of triumph over adversity.

Anne Aleckson of Step up to JOY is excited to announce her participation in the first Inspired Spirit anthology book. Entitled The Path to Success, the book provides 55 inspiring stories from highly successful people from all over the globe.

"It was humbling to be invited to take part in this book, especially considering the quality of the other people involved," said Anne

Anne is an Author and Coach specializing in the law of attraction and offers free articles and information at <http://www.stepuptojoy.com>

"This book has given me the opportunity to share my story of how I made a choice to be happy and how I then proceeded to change my life from one of unhappiness and drudgery to one of happiness and laughter. Being a part of this book has allowed me to reach thousands of people – just like me – who are perhaps searching for their own sense of happiness. I hope others will learn from my experiences and find their joy that much faster," says Anne.

Topics covered in the book include:

- How to remove stress and embrace success;
- Tried and true universal principles to grow your own wealth;
- Learn to move out of your comfort zone and achieve success;
- Discover the (other) Secret to living the life of your dreams;
- And many more stories of strength, courage and hope.

The Path to Success is available in all good bookstores and can be purchased at <http://www.stepuptojoy-lawofattractioncoach/the-path-to-success.html>
